I just came here to drink on it... over again
Tell me, what would you do
If your wife ran off with your girlfriend?
I don't have time tonight to cover... that much sorrow
When I sober up... and I might
I'll drink on it tomorrow

It's a losing situation trying to rationalize
What went wrong, who's to blame
I thought I compromised
Now trouble keeps a turning'...backflips in my mind
Her memory keeps me drinking... forgetting she was mine

There's a cutie in the corner staring right at me
She might be the one to chase away your memory
She gave me her number said her name was Laura
But I ain't got time tonight so I'll drink on her tomorrow

I just came here to drink on it... over again
Tell me, what would you do
If your wife ran off with your girlfriend?
I don't have time tonight to cover... that much sorrow
When I sober up... and I might
I'll drink on it tomorrow
She gave mer he number and said her name was Laura
When I sober up...and I might
I'll call her tomorrow
