It's been a long and rocky road
To get to where I'm going
A lifetime chasing down the setting sun
Blowing with the wind, flowing with the river
Drifting like a stranger...just passing through
With all the twists and turns...just passing through

Looking back in my rear view mirror
I see everything that's come and disappeared
Every smile, every kiss
Every woman's lips I could not resist (Every love I've known
I could not resist And all love I've missed...2nd chorus)

Now I face an open road
Cause that's where I'm going
With the sky always changing grey to blue
It's just me and my guitar and stars a glowing
We're on our way... just passing through
Drifting like a stranger... just passing through

There is no end in sight and there's no turning back
I'm on my way...just passing through
Drifting like a stranger... just passing through
